The results of the entrance examination at the Faculty of International Relations of the Prague University of Economics and Business may be replaced by the secondary school results, namely of mathematics and two foreign languages (including seminars, if the subject was not taught) in which the applicant would otherwise have taken the entrance examination, for the first half-year term of the final year and six immediately preceding half-year terms.
The applicant will be admitted without an entrance examination if his/her average grade calculated from the subjects listed below ( 21 grades in total) is below or equal to the threshold announced by the Dean.
